- ^{2/} Candidates required to file electronically (see footnote 4) must file this report if they receive a contribution of $5,000 or more from a single source at any time other than the 90-day election cycle. ("Election cycle" is defined as 90 days prior to an election and ending on the date of election.) No paper copy is required. This report is not required for primarily formed state candidate committees.
- ^{3/} File this report if contributions totaling $10,000 or more are made to state officeholders or committees primarily formed to support or oppose state officeholders during the corresponding period.
- ^{4/} In addition to paper reports, candidates and committees must file electronically if, beginning January 1, 2000, they receive contributions or make expenditures totaling $50,000 or more. For more information, visit the Secretary of State's web site at www.ss.ca.gov.
- ^{5/} Committees required to file electronically must file an online report each time they make contributions or independent expenditures totaling $5,000 or more to support or oppose the qualification or passage of a single state ballot measure. The report is required within 10 business days of making the payment. Independent expenditures of $1,000 or more made within 90 days before a state election are required to be reported within 24 hours. Consult the election filing schedule once a measure has qualified for the ballot.

Additional Notes:

- All statements are public documents.
- Contribution limits are in effect for state candidates and certain state committees. Refer to the contribution limit chart on the FPPC website. Contact local jurisdictions for information on local restrictions, if any.

Late independent expenditure reports or late contribution reports may be required if independent expenditures or contributions totaling $1,000 or more are made during the 16-day period prior to an election. Contact the FPPC for specific requirements.
- State elections in 2007: If a state election is held in 2007, a filing schedule for that election will be posted on the FPPC website. Additional reports may be required.
